

Child Protection Policy and Procedure at the Museum of Childhood Ireland Project.

MCI Project Policy Statement.

The Museum of Childhood Ireland Project (hereinafter the MCI Project), is committed to safeguarding the well-being of all children, and all vulnerable persons with whom our staff and volunteers come into contact. Our policy on child protection is in accordance with 'Children First – National Guidance for the Protection and Welfare of Children' (Department of Children and Youth Affairs, 2011) and our principle of duty for the care of children and the principles of good practice for the protection for children. We are strongly committed to promoting the rights of the child to be protected, be listened to and have their own views taken into consideration.

Principle.

This policy is underpinned by the Children First: National Guidance for the Protection and Welfare of Children.

Purpose.

This policy will apply to all employees and volunteers who have contact with children on / in the museum premises or through their work on behalf of the museum outreach service /at events hosted outside the museum / at other venues by our staff/ volunteers.

We deem it crucial that all employees/ volunteers have an ability to recognise abuse as defined in its many forms.

Dealing with Child Protection and Welfare Concerns.

All employees,/volunteers of the MCI Project , will be made aware of and be familiar with the museums child protection policy through an in-house induction, on-going training and will be expected to sign up to the overall child protection policy of the museum.

A designated staff/ volunteer Liaison Person ( hereinafter Designated Liaison Person/ DLP) will act as a liaison with outside agencies and as a resource person to any staff member or volunteer who has child protection concerns. Our DLP will be responsible for reporting allegations or suspicions to the Child and Family Agency Tusla or An Garda Síochana, as appropriate.

The MCI Project has put in place a standard reporting procedure for dealing with disclosures, concerns or allegations of child abuse. The MCI Project appointed (Designated Liaison Person) DLP will carry out our procedures for dealing with disclosures, concerns or allegations of child abuse

The employee or volunteer who has received a disclosure of child abuse or who has concerns about a child will bring them to the attention of the DLP immediately. Under no circumstances will a child be left in a situation that exposes him /her /they to harm or of risk to harm pending Tusla intervention. In the event of an emergency where we think a child is in immediate danger and we cannot get in contact with Tusla, the Gardaí will be contacted. Where the DLP considers that a child protection or welfare concern meets the reasonable grounds for concern (criteria outlined below), the DLP will refer to Tusla.

We consider the following as examples of reasonable grounds for concern:

- specific indication from the child that he/she/ they were abused;

- an account from the person who saw the child being abused;
- evidence, eg an injury or behaviour which is consistent with abuse and unlikely to be caused in any other way;
- an injury or behaviour which is consistent with abuse and with an innocent explanation but where there are corroborative indicators supporting the concern that it may be a case of abuse. For example; a pattern of injuries, an implausible explanation, other indications of abuse, dysfunctional behaviour;

- Consistent indication over a period of time that a child is suffering from emotional or physical neglect. visit: FAQ on www.tusla.ie/services/child-protection-welfare/children-first/

Where the DLP remains uncertain he/she/they will contact the Child and Family Agency Tusla for informal advice relating to the allegation, concern or disclosure.

The Designated Liaison Person will ensure that the parents/ carers are informed that a report/ referral had been made to Tusla. The DLP will make an appointment with parents to inform them that the report has been made to Tusla unless to do so would be likely to endanger the child.

After consultation with the Duty Social Worker the DLP will then take one of two options:

- Report the allegation, concern or disclosure to the relevant authority (e.g. Tusla, An Garda Síochána, etc.) using the standard reporting form from Children First and in the case of out of hours or immediate danger contact An Garda Síochána.
- In those cases where the museum decides not to report concerns to Tusla or An Garda Síochána, the individual employee or volunteer who raised the concern will be given a clear written statement of the reasons why the museum is not taking such action. The employee or volunteer will be advised that if they remain concerned about the situation, they are free as individuals to consult with, or report to, Tusla or An Garda Síochána. The provisions of the Protections for Persons Reporting Child Abuse Act 1998 apply once they communicate 'reasonably and in good faith' (Paragraph 3.10.1 of Children First National Guidance for the Protection and Welfare of Children).

In making a report on suspected or actual child abuse, the DLP will ensure that the first priority is always for the safety and welfare of the child/ children and that no child/ children is /are ever left in a situation that could place a child/children in immediate danger.

How to Report.

If the report is in relation to the safety and welfare of child/children the report should be made to the DLP(in the MCI Project's name)

Guiding principles to reporting child abuse:

- The safety and well-being of the child /children/ vulnerable person must take priority;
- Reports should be made without delay to the Child and Family Agency Tusla, Local Health Office area where child resides.
- A suspicion, which is not supported by an objective indication of abuse or neglect, would not constitute a reasonable suspicion or reasonable grounds for concern.

However, these suspicions should be recorded or noted internally by the DLP as future suspicions may lead to the decision to make a report and earlier suspicions may provide important information for the statutory child protection agency or An Garda Síochána.

Who can make a report to the MCI Project.

Reports can be made by:

- Children / young people/adolescents;
- Parents / guardians;
- Employees, volunteers of MCI Project ;
- Other advocates on behalf of children / young people/adolescents;

How to Handle a Report of Abuse by a Child / Young Person/adolescent/ vulnerable person.

In the event of a child / young person/adolescent / vulnerable person disclosing an incident of abuse it is essential that this is dealt with sensitively and professionally by the employee / volunteer involved. In such circumstances, the employee / volunteer will :

- React calmly;
- Listen carefully and attentively; take the young person seriously;
- Reassure the young person that they have taken the right action in talking to you;
- Do NOT promise to keep anything secret;
- Ask questions for clarification only. Do not ask leading questions, this is not an interview, but rather receiving a disclosure from a child;
- Check back with the child/young person /adolescent that what you have heard is correct and understood;
- Do not express any opinions about the alleged abuser;
- Record the conversation as soon as possible, in as much detail as possible. Sign and date the record;
- Ensure that the child/young person /adolescent understands the procedures which will follow;
- Pass the information to the DLP but do not attempt to deal with the problem alone;
- Treat the information confidentially.

Retrospective Disclosures by Adults

Role of the DLP.

Parents and staff /volunteers who are working with children and young adults or who attend child protection training may disclose abuse which took place during their childhood. A disclosure of abuse by an adult which took place during their childhood must be noted or recorded.

In these cases it is essential that consideration is given to the current risk to any child who may be in contact. If any risk is deemed to exist to any child who may be in contact with the alleged abuser, a report of the allegation should be made to the Child and Family Agency Tusla without delay. Investigation of disclosures by adult victims of past abuse frequently uncovers current incidents of abuse and is therefore an effective means of stopping the cycle of abuse.

An increasing number of adults are disclosing abuse that took place during their childhoods. Such disclosures often come to light when adults attend counselling. It is essential to establish whether there is any current risk to any child who may be in contact with the alleged abuser revealed in such disclosures.

If any risk is deemed to exist for a child who may be in contact with an alleged abuser, the Designated Liaison Person should report the allegation to the Child and Family Agency Tusla without delay.

The National Counselling Service is in place to listen to, value and understand those who have been abused in childhood. The service is a professional, confidential counselling and psychotherapy service and is available free of charge in all regions of the country (see http://www.hse.ie/eng/services/list/4/Mental\_Health\_Services/National\_Counselling\_Service/). The service can be accessed either through healthcare professionals or by way of self-referral.

Protections for Persons Reporting Child Abuse Act, 1998*

MCI Project wish to draw the attention of the staff and volunteers to this Act Protection for Persons Reporting Child Abuse Act, 1998 provides immunity from civil liability to persons who report child abuse “reasonably and in good faith” to the HSE or An Garda Síochána. It is essential in reporting any case of alleged / suspected abuse that the principle of confidentiality applies. The information should only be shared on a 'need to know' basis which means sharing information with persons who have a need to know in order to safeguard a child/young person and is not a breach of confidentiality and the number of people that need to be informed should be kept to a minimum. If an employee has any doubt as to whether a report should be made, he / she should consult with the childcare service's Designated Liaison Person/DLP.

If an allegation is made against an employee, the Designated Liaison Person or the Deputy Designated Liaison Person in these situations there are two parts to the process, i.e. dealing with the allegation of abuse and dealing with the employee/volunteer. Where possible these two pieces should be dealt with by two different people.

The employee has a right to respond to this and this response should be documented and retained. Furthermore, Named Service will ensure that the principle of 'natural justice' will apply whereby a person is considered innocent until proven otherwise.
- c) The Manager/Owner/Committee Chairperson), will suspend the employee / volunteer with pay (where appropriate). In the case where the worker is not suspended the level of supervision of the worker will be increased.
- d) The Manager/Owner/Committee Chairperson), will liaise closely with the HSE Children and Family Services/An Garda Síochána to ensure that the actions taken by the MCI Project will not undermine or frustrate any investigations.
- e) The protective measures which can be taken to ensure the safety of children and young people can include the following:
  - suspension of duties of the person accused,
  - re-assignment of duties where the accused will not have contact with children / young people,
  - working under increased supervision during the period of the investigation
  - or other measures as deemed appropriate.

Definition of Child Abuse

Child abuse is complicated and can take different forms, but usually consists of one or more of the following signs and symptoms:

Neglect can be defined in terms of an omission where the child suffers significant harm or impairment of development by being deprived of food, clothing, warmth, hygiene, intellectual stimulation, supervision and safety, attachment to and affection from adults, and or medical care.

"The threshold of significant harm is reached when the child's needs are neglected to the extent that his or her well-being and/or development are severely affected". "Neglect generally becomes apparent in different ways over a period of time rather than at one specific point. For example, a child who suffers a series of minor injuries may not be having his or her needs met in terms of necessary supervision and safety. A child whose height or weight is significantly below average may be being deprived of adequate nutrition. A child who consistently misses school may be being deprived of intellectual stimulation".

Emotional abuse is normally to be found in the relationship between a care-giver and a child rather than in a specific event or pattern of events. It occurs when a child's need for affection, approval, consistency and security are not met. Emotional abuse can be manifested in terms of the child's behavioural, cognitive, affective or physical functioning e.g. 'anxious' attachment, non-organic failure to thrive, unhappiness, low self-esteem, educational and developmental underachievement, and oppositional behaviour.

Examples may include:

- the imposition of negative attributes on a child, expressed by persistent criticism , sarcasm, hostility or blaming;
- conditional parenting in which the level of care shown to a child is made contingent on his or her behaviours or actions;
- emotional unavailability of the Childs parent/carer;
- unresponsiveness of the parent/carer and/or inconsistent or inappropriate expectations of the child;
- unrealistic or inappropriate expectations of the child's capacity to understand something or to behave and control himself or herself in a certain way;
- under- or over-protection of the child;

- failure to show interest in, or provide age-appropriate opportunities for, the child's cognitive and emotional development;
- use of unreasonable or over-harsh disciplinary measures;
- exposure to domestic violence;
- exposure to inappropriate or abusive material through new technology.

Physical abuse of a child is that which results in actual or potential physical harm from an interaction, or lack of interaction, which is reasonably within the control of the parent or person in a position of responsibility, power or trust. There may be single or repeated incidents.

Physical abuse can involve:

- severe physical punishment;
- beating, slapping, hitting or kicking;
- pushing, shaking or throwing;
- pinching, biting, choking or hair pulling
- terrorising with threats;
- observing violence;
- use of excessive force in handling;
- deliberate poisoning;
- suffocation;
- fabricated/induced illness;
- allowing or creating a substantial risk of significant harm to a child.

Sexual abuse occurs when “a child is used by another person for his or her gratification or sexual arousal or for that of others”.

Examples of child sexual abuse include:

- exposure of the sexual organs or any sexual act intentionally performed in the presence of the child;
- intentional touching or molesting of the body of a child whether by a person or object for the purpose of the sexual arousal or gratification;
- masturbation in the presence of the child in an act of masturbation;
- sexual intercourse with the child, whether oral, vaginal or anal,
- sexual exploitation of a child, which includes inciting, encouraging, propositioning, requiring or permitting a child to solicit for, or to engage in, prostitution or other sexual acts. Sexual exploitation also occurs when a child is involved in the exhibition, modelling or posing for the purpose of sexual arousal, gratification or sexual act, including its recording (on film, video tape or other media) or the manipulation, for those purposes, of the image by computer or other means. It may also include showing sexually explicit material to children, which is often a feature of the ‘grooming’ process by perpetrators of abuse;

- Consensual sexual activity involving an adult and an underage person. In relation to child sexual abuse. It should be noted that, for the purposes of the criminal law, the age of consent to sexual intercourse is 17 years for both boys and girls. An Garda Síochána will deal with the criminal aspects of the case under the relevant legislation.

Reckless Endangerment is when a person having authority or control over a child or an abuser, who intentionally or recklessly endangers a child by:

(a) Causing or permitting any child to be placed or left in a situation which creates a substantial risk to the child of being a victim of serious harm or sexual abuse, or

(b) Failing to take reasonable steps to protect a child from such a risk while knowing that the child is in such a situation, is guilty of an offence’.

All Garda vetting for the MCI Project is carried out for us through Create, Curved St. Temple Bar.
